Tina & Taisha is the union of two of New Zealand's finest singers and entertainers. From up close and intimate to full noise, these Diva's sing it sweet and sing it strong. Tina Cross is a pop princess, song contest winner and recording artist turned musical theatre star. Tina has entertained worldwide and appeared with Sammy David Jnr, Tom Jones and the Village People, amongst others. Taisha Tari is New Zealand's top session singer with 20 years of studio experience and numerous radio and TV jingles to her name. She has recorded with everyone from Dame Kiri Te Kanawa to Midge Marsden and OMC whom she toured with internationally, on the back of his US and UK No1 hit single, 'How Bizzare'.

Rikki Morris currently is writing radio jingles for a living, working exclusively for 'Something Radio', as well as playing occasional gigs and doing live sound engineering for numerous bands (Gin Wigmore, The Checks, The Calico Brothers, The Lady Killers, to name a few). Nov 2008 toured New Zealand as support act for Paul Young & Tony Hadley (Spandau Ballet).

Sharon Emirali has performed throughout the country singing country music and winning a New Zealand title at the age of 10 years old. Sharon has collaborated and launched New Zealand's first live "Burlesque" show, based on the box-office hit starring Christina Aguilera and Cher. Offering alluring performances of the original songs, choreography and striking costumes from the movie in a sensational stage spectacle! Sharon is also a busy studio session singer, working closely with Big Pop productions (for Les Mills Fitness) and also appeared on the platinum-selling "Merry Christmas Baby" album in 2009.

Stephen Small born in Wellington, New Zealand, and studied classical piano and composition at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama, London and holds a Master of Arts (MA) in Popular Musicology and a Doctorate of Musical Arts (DMA). Stephen has performed in Malaysia with classical crossover artist Elizabeth Marvelly and also with pop vocal supergroup The Lady Killers. He is the orchestrator of Michael O'Neill and Peter Van Der Fluit's musical theatre and also performed in London in 2010 under the auspices of Sir Andrew Lloyd Webber.

with MC & Singer RUSSELL HARRISON

"From a young age he performed in theatre alongside Rob Guest in Ali Baba and the 40 thieves and other stage shows such as Grease. He held the position of Lotto presenter for 11 years, and has made numerous other television appearances on programs such as Shortland Street, Good Morning and CODE. He has been a backing vocalist for Sir Howard Morrison and has been a guest performer with the Drifters. He is a member of groups such as The Howard Morrison Junior Trio, Hitmen and The Brown Brothers. He held a position as the Head of Performing Arts for Te Wananga o Aotearoa and assisted in developing the Certificate of Music.
